There's a comprehensive selection of AT snares available from Arbiter, featuring three diminutive, but unbelievably punchy drums with 10", 12" and 13" diameters and two with more regular 14" diameters with standard 5.5" and 6.5" depths. Because of their extreme tuning range and rich tone, they can be used successfully in any musical situation.

All 'AT' snare drums feature Arbiter's own resonance mounting system which isolates the snare throw-off and butt-end so no potentially sound deadening vibrations are set up within the shell.

Vibrasonic snare drums have their fittings bolted on but feature the same award-winning single-screw tuning system and are wrapped in chrome or brass finish polymers.

Arbiter's Flats snare drums are available singly for easy integration into regular depth sets. Their inherently full-bodied sound belies their 2" depth

'AT' snare drums can also be customised with classic hard-wearing polymer coverings.

Positive adjustable snare mechanisms are fitted as standard to all snare drums. All drums are supplied with Remo Ambassador heads.
